Living a dream-come-true is a wonderful experience. Author/Skipper Darrell Grob, along with his wife Lisa, have done just that. After years of working in the corporate world they decided that they wanted more out of their lives. They decided to become cruising boaters out on America's waters, and after years of preparation and research they set off on the journey and live the life they wanted. And they do love what they are doing! An on board boating lifestyle is fun, exciting, challenging and rewarding. But they were rookies! Even though they planned as much as they could in advance, they still had to learn so much. But they were committed to this, so they became students of it all and not only succeeded but thrived. This is more than a book about boating. It's a book about aspiring to do bold things and to recapturing the personal quality of self-determination. It's a book about adventure. Its about life choices. It's a book about living an active retirement lifestyle. It's a book about learning more about oneself.
