- Alternatives to reducing cracking time
- Plus a lot more....

The author's words:

Seeing the Rubik's cube for the first time as a child I was bewildered. I could not understand how anyone could actually solve it. I promptly became irritated, got rid of the stickers, "cracked" the cube, and moved on. I never touched the cube for years, until at sixteen I watched my uncle solve it.

I instantly implored him to coach me, and he accepted. It took time to solve it however I did not give up. A few weeks later I was able to crack it without assistance.

I have been familiar with solving the Rubik's cube for almost 10 years now.

During this time, I have grasped the essentials of mastering the cube.

I have also discovered that any person can understand how to crack the cube if they are determined and have a good teacher.

I have coached people sure they would never get through the initial step. Today, they can solve in less than a minute.

Similarly, you can comprehend the cube. Any person can comprehend the cube.

Best wishes,
